Act It Out!

During this small group remote learning experience the following goals will be addressed:

- 1. Using emotional regulation tools to help children understand how to cope with situations that can be dysregulating.
- 2. Using non-verbal communication to understand and express points of view
- 3. Using expressive language appropriately when encountering anxiety, frustration, anger and happiness

This club will be facilitated by a theater artist and a speech/language pathologist. Role play and theatre game-like activities will be incorporated into the sessions. Participants will be grouped according to age. Day and time to be determined upon registration.

Eight weekly one-hour sessions from June 15 – August 15, 2020
